CLEAR POLITICAL DECK FOR ACTION

City Election Is Main Topic Today

5,791 ELIGIBLE VOTERS

Includes 800 Women, 1,600 More Than Ever Before

Port Arthur's political decks today are cleared and stripped for action, awaiting the opening of the city polls Saturday morning at 8 o'clock.

For the first time in the city's history, Port Arthur voters are called upon to elect a full-time mayor, a chief of police and city attorney, all to serve two-year terms, in addition to the regular commissioners, one of public records and finance, the other of public property and improvements.

The city list of qualified voters, totaling 5,791, of which between 800 and 900 are women, 1,600 more than ever recorded here before, is closed, and with balloting supplies, voting equipment, including the official ballots, ballot boxes, stationery, pens, ink and pencils, will be delivered to the judges the first thing tomorrow morning, E. H. Miles, city clerk, said today.

Who and How

Last minute warnings issued by G. K. Lomax, city tax collector and assessor, today were:

1. Model addition citizens, the 179 who have registered their poll tax receipts with him, and gotten their names placed on the city polling lists, vote with Ward 3, at Linn's garage.

2. Mark ballots by striking out all candidates not voted for, leaving only one name under each place. The names of candidates voted for must not simply be checked and the other names on the ballots left unscratched with pencil marks.

3. There is no such thing as voting for "first and second choice." Each voter is entitled to vote for only one candidate under each head. Candidates entering the runoff elections are the ones receiving the highest and next to highest number of votes where three or more are running. Where only two candidates are out for the same office, as in the city attorney's race, the high man will be elected at the primaries Saturday.

City Boundaries

Boundaries of the three city wards, and where the voters living in each of these wards vote in the elections tomorrow are as follows:

Ward 1, extending from the ship canal to the middle of Seventh street, and from the west city limits to Shreveport avenue. The polling place for citizens in this ward is at the city hall, lower floor. Election judges are Mark Majors, W. A. Young and S. H. Hanson.

Ward 2 extends from the middle of Seventh street to Zwoille boulevard on the north, and from the western city limits to Shreveport avenue. The polling place for voters in this ward is at the Houston avenue fire station, and election judges are W. H. Bailey, C. B. Whittington and Rev. J. W. Post.

Ward 3 extends from the canal to Zwoille boulevard along Shreveport avenue, and from Shreveport avenue to the Port Arthur-Beaumont highway, including the recently annexed Model addition. The polling place for Ward 3 voters is at Linn's garage. Election judges are Rev. T. Alvis Davis, Rev. W. L. Caughman, and a third to be selected.

Polls will be closed at 7 o'clock p. m. Saturday, according to provision in the general Texas state election laws, and other provisions of the Texas state law governing elections will be observed, Lomax said today.

Names on the official ballot are arranged alphabetically. A copy of the sample ballot of the official ballot for tomorrow's election follows:

Will Women Vote Saturday the Way Their Husbands Do? 'Nix,' Says Mrs. Young

Do women count in politics? Will they vote the way their husbands vote? Is their voting strength in Port Arthur strong enough to worry the politicians in tomorrow's election?

These questions are causing worry to many, wisecracks who have "doped out" the election—win the execution of the women's votes.

And they are questions to ponder over—because, according to the consensus of opinion of women in various sections of the city who are watching women's part in the election with keen interest, the women in Port Arthur are going to vote. How? No one knows but they—and no one will know until after the election.

"The qualified women voters of Port Arthur are reacting in politics and are taking a large interest in tomorrow's election," Mrs. K. A. Young, prominent club woman, declared today. "Though they are not as yet so much interested in politics as men, their interest is growing and they are very much concerned over the city election."

"We have between eight and nine hundred qualified women voters in Port Arthur, and my general impression is that they will turn out on a woman. My impression is based upon the attitude of the club women of the city, for I think that every club woman who has paid her poll tax will take advantage of her privilege and go to the polls tomorrow and vote."

"The women of Port Arthur are beginning to learn that it is time for them to express their opinion and preference in a more substantial manner than by just talking. At a recent election many of the women stayed at home on account of the bad weather. They have learned a lesson now, and I am sure that nothing will be able to deter them tomorrow."

That the suffragized wife is thinking for herself is the opinion of Mrs. Young.

"Will they follow their husbands' lead in voting? No, unless the husband has the same viewpoint his wife has."

"I feel sure that the women will count greatly in the election tomorrow," another club woman declared. "I mix with the politicians to a great extent in my business, and I know they are worried about the women. The trouble with the women of Port Arthur is that they do not take the trouble to vote. They think because they have the ballot they can keep it at home instead of at the polls. The men have given us the ballot, and so I don't see why we shouldn't use it to clean house with and keep the house clean."

"The qualified women voters of Port Arthur ought to capitalize the fear men have for them. For ages woman's greatest asset has been the imagination of man. Why liquidate that asset because she has the ballot? Keep them guessing. When men stop guessing about women, the show is over, the lights are out, and the glory of life and its best joy are departed. The independent woman is the only woman worth having because you can't ever get her. The old love of life that women know is the best tale of women in politics."

"As far as following their husbands' lead in voting I think that they will exercise their own judgment. Women can tell intuitively what kind of a man a man is if she knows him personally, and the women of Port Arthur know nearly all or at least the majority of the candidates in tomorrow's race."

"I don't know how many women are voting or how many are qualified to vote in tomorrow's election, but I do know that the women of Port Arthur are vitally interested in the city election," Mrs. Edith Upton stated. This is Miss Upton's second year of voting.

"There is a lot of electioneering among the younger women for their candidates," said Mrs. Upton. "Do they follow their husbands' lead? Well they might take his advice in a state election when they do not know the candidates, but they don't all the time, and especially in an election like tomorrow's (Turn to Page 2 Column 1)

George Pratt, refinery employee, admits he was dazed one noon by the passage of a young lady who finally disappeared behind the doors of the Christian church cafeteria.

"I followed her," he said.

It was a warm day and several men present already had instituted the informality of removing their coats. Pratt removed his also, he said, so as not to appear too conspicuous.

When he was ready to leave he looked around for his hat. He couldn't find it. "It's on your head," said the girl with the silvery voice. "Now I remember," said Pratt. "I put it on before I took my coat off the hook."

Re-instatement of ex-service men for government insurance is being carried on more successfully than ever, according to Miss Gertrude Thompson, executive secretary of the Port Arthur chapter.

Through the aid of the local Red Cross chapter, assisted by R. R. Landrum, chief officer of the U. S. Veterans bureau, $47,000 worth of government insurance was reinstated here recently.

"This only goes to prove," says Miss Thompson, "that our work is effective and is bringing results. We have had such good results from our work that it seems a shame for any veteran to permit a lapse or not seek re-instatement."

"We are very anxious that every man should be reinstated and are willing to go the limit of our time (Turn to Page 2 Column 1)

BUSINESS TOO BIG SAYS NEW

Postal Head Plans to Violate Law
By HARRY E. HUNT
WASHINGTON, May 4.—Too big business!
That's what troubling Harry S. New, postmaster general, at the end of his first month as head of Uncle Sam's postal service.
New, at is officially reported here, considering violating the law in order to maintain deliveries and to prevent demoralizing break-down in mail service.
The "violation" will consist in lifting certain appropriations for maintenance of the service which are rigidly fixed by law—by law which New, as secretary, supported.
New is reported to have conferred with President Harding with reference to taking this action.
Volume of Mail
With the volume of mail matter reaching at an unprecedented rate, and his assistants are being kept busy trying to devise ways to make the department live within congressional appropriation limits.

Early in March, a blanket order was sent to city postmasters to cut delivery expenses to the limit. The result of the cuts was left to the discretion of postmasters.
As a result many postmasters cut delivery expenses to the limit. A large percent of them sought to trench on parcel post deliveries.
In some towns, where two deliveries a day had been made once a day was ordered. In New York, a delivery was cut to five.
Similar drastic measures were ordered to the press, for distribution of the public, that service, not surplus, is the sum of the postal service and that the mails will be delivered on time, if not now.
About one, with less than three months to go to the end of the fiscal year, the volume of business is actually increasing. Why? Where? That's the big idea? The public wanted to know.

To Use Judgment
Quick admonition was sent to postmasters that they were expected to use judgment in effecting the reductions.
But the immediate effect was a cut and narrow-wide yelp on the part of the public. The reputation of good mail service, which will be built up, seemed to be shaken.
Appropriations for the year 1923-24, $750,000,000. This is an increase of about 1 per cent or some $75,000,000 over the expenditures for 1922-23, which congress believed would be for normal postal growth.
A check made on postal business the nine months ending March, however, indicates an increase in volume of business of 13.12 per cent, or about double the average annual increase for the past 40 years. Wherefore, Secretary New is having his doubts.

AND HE DOES IT WITHOUT HIS MASTER'S GUIDANCE

Tipperary, one of the favorites of the horse show at Washington, D. C., goes over an auto with his master, Jack Prestige, in the stable. And then he repeats the feat without a rider's guidance.

ing his troubles. The more business the more expense and the greater deficit he must report.
For the postoffice department, unlike a business house, does not increase its income in proportion to increased revenue. All earnings are turned into the United States treasury, and the service is called on to operate within the congressional appropriation.
Still, postal deficits will be nothing new—to reflection on New. In fact, they're the regular thing. Postmaster general—and the bigger the surplus, the louder the public yell for better service.

MAUDE ADAMS RETURNS
NEW YORK, May 4.—Apparent in good health and spirits after an extended vacation abroad, Maude Adams, actress, returned to New York on the Baltic Tuesday. Seemingly as a young girl, the much-beloved Peter Pan kept to herself during the voyage, under his little known name, Miss M. A. Kiskadden.

Pianist, Washing Bottles, Now Goes Back to Concert Stage

NEW YORK, May 4.—When the fingers of Sergei Rachmaninoff play the intricate phrases of Rachmaninoff's music on the Town Hall stage there will be state on them.
The stars are the young Russian composer's gramophone records of the last four months, his first in this country, part of which he spent working 12 hours each night washing bottles in a factory, until the chemicals in the water threatened to end his career.
Rachmaninoff's appearance as accompanist for Miss Nina Koshetz in a Rachmaninoff program marks the beginning of his rise from the depths of the Russian debate. Four months ago the pianist, who is only 27, arrived here from Constantinople, penniless, friendless, and ignorant of the fate of his scattered family. His father, a former general in the White army against the Reds, and his mother, a member of the old Russian aristocracy, has been swallowed up in the chaos following the revolution. His brothers and sisters were gone. He himself had been wounded three times while serving as a lieutenant against the soviet.
From infrequent concerts in southern Europe and Turkey the young man had saved enough for his passage. He looked up Sergei Rachmaninoff, who had found fame in this new country of America. Rachmaninoff, knowing the youth as a professional pianist, advised him to go to the United States and work for a living. Sometimes he earned overtime as watchman and porter. The work soon brought blisters and open sores on his hands.
It was Mrs. Koshetz who rescued him from his plight. When he came to play for her she noticed the condition of his hands. She hired him as her accompanist and arranged for him to appear with her Wednesday night. What the future holds is for those who hear him to decide.
POPULAR STYLE
Simple, but effective, frocks are made of crepe de chine, accordion pleated from neck line to hem, and held into a loose waistline by scarves of printed silk in hectic hues.
FELT AND TAFFETA
Felt and taffeta is a smart combination in millinery this spring, particularly in the delicate shades of lavender, mauve, lemon or blue.
Your auto driving will be a pleasure if you vote for Jim E. Connors.

GETS $2,000,000 IN WILL TRUCE

Mrs. Burnett Agrees to Compromise

FORT WORTH, May 4.—Cash and property valued at approximately $2,000,000 was awarded Mrs. Mary Courts Burnett, widow of Samuel Burk Burnett, famous Texas cattleman and financier, in an agreed judgment entered in district court here in her suit against W. E. Connell and Marion Seaton, administrators of the estate.
By terms of the judgment Mrs. Burnett is granted $946,731.50 in cash. The remainder is in real estate, livestock, securities and household goods.
The remainder of the estate, after Mrs. Burnett's claims have been met, will be divided, it is understood, into three parts for Tom L. Burnett, son, Mrs. Ollie L. Burnett, daughter-in-law, and Anne Burnett Waggoner, granddaughter. On the will left by the millionaire, the bulk of his vast estate was given to the granddaughter.
A fund of $50,000, provided in the will for development of Burk Burnett Park here, will not be affected by the division.

WEDDED FIANCE GRANTED $400

Judge Dismisses Second Suit Against Girl

RACINE, Wis., May 4.—Frank Horschak, Manitowoc, who came here to marry his fiancée, Miss Lucile Gallagher, last November and found that she had married a former sweetheart, was awarded $400 damages in his suit for $25,000 against Mrs. Lucile Gallagher Evans in circuit court.

The jury, which had been instructed to find cause for action and determine the amount of damages, was given the case Monday night. The 11 men and one woman deliberated five hours and returned a sealed verdict which was read at the opening of court Tuesday.

Must Return Cedar Chest
Judge Belden dismissed the $25,000 action brought by Horschak against Leslie Evans, husband of the young woman, for alienation of affections, and also a $250 replevin action representing the value of gifts Horschak said he made to his former fiancée. The court held that the same allegations were made in the first, and that the verdict in the first case covers all three.

The judge ruled that Horschak could retain all gifts, except a cedar chest that Mrs. Evans had returned to him, but that she could also keep gifts that she still held. He ordered that Horschak return to her a cedar chest given Mrs. Evans as a Christmas present in 1921.

Horschak testified that since the defendant had broken the engagement, after he had furnished a home for her in Manitowoc, he had been ridiculed by friends in Manitowoc, La Crosse, and other places where he had sent invitations. He declared he had given the defendant no cause for her breaking the contract of marriage.

Feared His Jealousy
The defendant testified that she first met the plaintiff in August, 1920, and became engaged in December of that year. After Horschak went to La Crosse, and during the greater part of the next year, they did not correspond and the defendant considered the engagement off, but did not return the engagement ring. In September, 1922, Horschak returned to Racine.

The defendant admitted that the wedding day was set for Dec. 2, but on Nov. 27 she eloped to Waukegan with Leslie Evans, and they were married. Evans came to Racine from California following the receipt of a letter from the girl that she was to wed Horschak. It was after Evans had urged her to marry him that she consented to living known that Horschak and she believed that her wedding life with Evans would be far more happy than with Horschak, whom she feared because of his jealous disposition.

BABIES GIVEN BEER AT BIRTH

Smoke Pipe at 2—But They Are in Africa

NEW YORK, May 4.—The Rev. J. R. Fell of the Native Training Institute of Clifty Estate, Kafue, Africa, came to the city Saturday with stories of how the latest methods of child health and sanitation gradually are being adopted by the primitive Rhodesians on the edge of Nowhere, 1,800 miles from Cape Town. They are a people of strange customs.

"If a baby's lower teeth happen to come in first," said Dr. Fell, "instead of the upper ones, which usually appear first, the Rhodesian parent believes the spirits are vexed with the child and makes away with him."

Dr. Fell is trying to introduce a diet reform for infants and children of Rhodesia.

"Babies," he said, "are nursed until they are 3 years old, but they do not live on milk alone. They are given beer in earliest infancy and smoke pipes at the age of 2. After 3 they eat whatever their elders do. Eggs, however, are not on the menu as they are supposed to contain poison. The Rhodesians eat whatever they are able to kill, including field mice, frogs and crocodiles."

"One of the hardest jobs," said Dr. Fell, "is to teach them to bathe. The new-born infant is given a bath, the child and makes away with him."

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Crash! It had fallen right into the trap.

After the tank of the tin soldiers had knocked down the fort of the wooden soldiers in Bing-Bang Land, there was a council of war.

"What shall we do?" asked General Gold Brail.

"Rebuild the fort," suggested somebody.

"That won't do any good," declared the general. "The tank will come right back and knock it down again."

"Drop shells on it out of an airplane and blow it up," suggested somebody else.

"I know a better way than that," said Nick.

"What?" everybody wanted to know.

"Dig a deep hole and cover it with branches so it can't be seen," said Nick. "That's the way they catch tigers."

"But how do we know which way the tank is going?" declared General Gold Brail.

"We can't pick up the hole and run around after it," Nick laughed. "No, sir! You are perfectly right, sir! But I thought we might lay a trap for it. Sort of like coaxing a mouse into a trap with a piece of cheese."

"We might put something on top of the branches," said Nick. "Something the tank will wish to run over very much. Then, ker-flip, ker-flop! Down they will go to the bottom and we can capture them."

"Fine!" said the general. "Come on, men. Dig as hard as you can."

So they all dug and soon had a fine deep hole covered so cleverly with branches you wouldn't have guessed it was there in a hundred years.

Right in the middle they put a wooden cannon.

Along came the tank just then-like a big bug. Seeing the gun it went right at it.

"Crash!" it had fallen right into the trap.

"Hurrah!" cried the wooden soldiers. "You are our prisoners!"

KEEP YOUR LOOKS

What's the Advice of Noted Girl Expert

NEW YORK, May 4.—If you want to retain your looks—learn to relax.

You have the word of the "facial expert" for this.

And if this means nothing to you, add that she's Dorothy Gray, one of the "facial aesthetes."

Miss Gray is not only a creator, but she is a famous beauty company's representative, to the extent of having her beauty-bringing hands for $25.00.

Think of it—$25.00 per digit!

And now that you know you are getting expert advice, let Miss Gray tell you some secrets.

Warm Women

"The American woman today is the best dressed and the most beautiful in the world," she says.

But she will not remain so, if she does not make a fearful change in her. The life she is leading is too quick, the social demands are too strenuous. She is burning up her energy and her beauty. She must learn to let go.

In the modern woman's neck, Miss Gray says, you can read the record of her nervous tension.

"Instead of the lovely column of white flesh which should support her head," she went on, "many a woman displays a scrawny neck with cords and tendons plainly visible through a weatherbeaten, discolored skin."

"This is because she keeps her neck and shoulders rigid and strained. And she cannot correct the condition until she learns to relax."

Exercises

"This is the first exercise in the relaxing program:

"Sit in a comfortable chair, preferably one with arms, that supports your back. Look down at the tips of your slippers and think of your toes, then of your knees, then of your elbows. Then just let yourself flop mentally and physically."

"For at least 10 minutes blot from your mind every worry or anxiety. Then sit up in the chair. Let your head drop down onto your chest, then gently describe a circle with it, going as far to the sides and back as you can without straining."

Count four times with each revolution—you will find the rhythm useful. Do this 10 or 12 times at first.

"Then learn to relax while sitting. When you drop into a chair, do not hump up your shoulders and keep your arms and hands tense. Instead support yourself from your diaphragm and let your shoulders and arms take what position they will. Sit clear back in your chair so that your spine is supported. If you are short, do not select a high chair."

"When you have learned to relax you can do it throughout the day—while you are in the theater, while you are waiting for appointments—and whenever you think of it."

"Often it takes four weeks of daily work to reach a woman to really relax. But once learned, she has mastered the most important beauty lesson there is."

Sometimes a politician can't tell the people where he stands because he is on the run.

An open mind is all right if your mouth isn't that way.

HOUSE OF DAVID HUBBIES

MOCK TRIALS IN HOUSE OF SHILOH

Witness Says Girls Taught to Answer Quizzes

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., May 4.—Subterranean passages in the House of David property and mock trials wherein Shiloh girls were taught to testify falsely in case of investigation of alleged immorality in the cult, were revealed today to investigators by Mrs. Hazel Mae Wurth, former colony member.

While a member of the cult, "King" Benjamin Parnell schooled her in legal procedure that she might come to his defense in case of trouble, she said in a statement.

Mrs. Wurth, who has for seven years been a nemesis of Parnell in seeking investigations into his order, has been made a special adviser to Judge Harry Dingeman in the "one man" grand jury probe.

A statement to investigators by Benjamin Rubel, husband of a girl suing "King" Benjamin for damages, provided another sensation of the day. He told of "ducking trials," at the colony in which foremen threw workers into the lake to determine guilt or innocence of alleged offenses.

If the victims could swim out, they were released as innocent, Rubel said.

The investigation recessed until Monday when Walter M. Nelson, Detroit attorney, who once refused to testify satisfactorily, will be summoned and an attempt made to compel him to talk freely.

The subterranean passages, Mrs. Wurth declared, were used by Parnell and other colony leaders in clandestine meetings with young girls.

She once went to Washington, D. C., she said, and laid an "exposure" of the cult before the department of justice, saw Joseph Tamm and attempted to see President Wilson. After listening to her, department of justice agents and Tamm bowed her, she asserts.

Times are so bad with some people they won't buy a single new automobile this spring.

Harvard Men, Boston Girls, Take Nip, Plait

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 4.—Drinking is prevalent among Harvard men and Boston society girls, according to Henri Hauser, French exchange professor at Harvard, who, in a recent edition of a Paris newspaper comments on local alcoholic conditions in an attempt to show his countrymen the present prohibition enforcement situation in America. The article appeared in L'Information and is titled Dry America: Appearance and Reality.

"How is it," wrote Professor Hauser, "that when I enter of an evening under the trees of Harvard upon the narrow paths which lead to the dormitories, how is it that I meet students, graduates, who smell of whiskey?"

"How is it that at the last costume ball, a traditional ball attended by the best society of Cambridge, and Boston, several young girls were not drunk, but a little disorganized? Two, three or four cocktails did not frighten the sweet beauties?"

WOMEN VOTE

 Mrs. H. E. Goodwin, another club woman, of note and well known in the city, declared this morning that the women were unusually interested in the city election.
 Mrs. Robert M. Hill, also well known in church circles, said that the women were taking a greater interest in the city election than in any election heretofore.
 Mrs. Joe Corbett, president of the Woman's Auxiliary of the First Baptist Church, in speaking for the women of the Model Addition said that now the women of the Model Addition were in the city and were eligible to vote that they were taking an unusually keen interest in the city election.

RED CROSS AIDS

 and effort in his behalf. The bureau will send a special representative as soon as sufficient number of men have signified their desire to see him. They should report at the Red Cross office and arrangements will be made for them. Reinstatement can be made any time by the Red Cross but it is easier for a contact man to be brought in, as that is his particular business.

There are several examples of the Red Cross work here that is worthy of mention.
 For example, one man who is entitled to total temporary rating, which means that due to his war service he is wholly incapacitated to be self-supporting, which will amount to $100.00 a month, was first granted a 52 per cent rating. Then through the efforts of the local Red Cross, this rating was increased to 80 per cent, and the indications are favorable for his being given total permanent rating. If he also is granted reinstatement of his insurance for the full amount of $100.00 it will mean $157.50 a month for him.

In another case, a man's claim was turned down by the district office of the United States Veterans bureau. The local Red Cross office was convinced of the genuineness of his claim and of the absolute necessity of his receiving treatment. Special continued effort was made, and at the present time, he is being treated at Walter Reed hospital in Washington, and no doubt will draw total permanent compensation.

Bryant Thanks Word
For Aid in Prosecuting

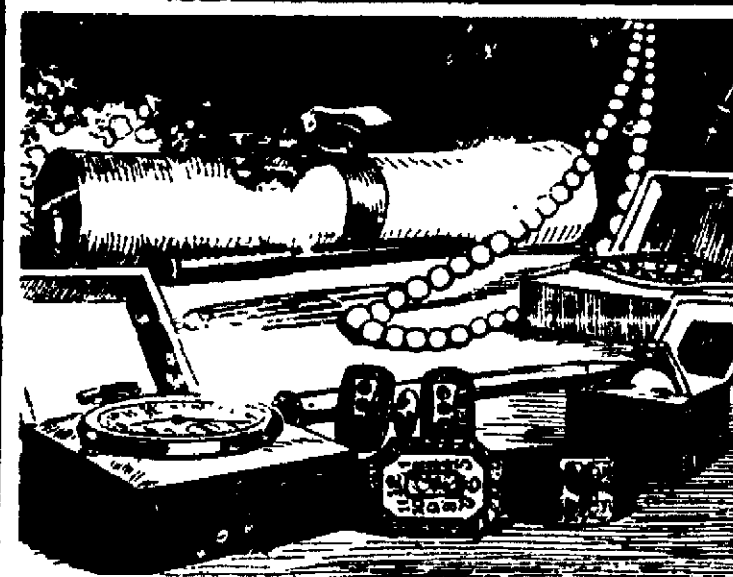

Prompted, he said, by a due appreciation of the services rendered by Chief of Police M. B. Word in running down violations of the liquor, narcotic and other federal law violations in Port Arthur, Randolph Bryant, United States district attorney for the eastern district of Texas, has written Chief Word thanking him for the assistance and cooperation given the federal government in prosecuting federal law violations.

"You have been efficient and energetic in the development of cases of all kinds, including violations of the liquor, narcotic and other federal laws, and you have been faithful throughout in your attendance upon the court, and have contributed in a high degree to final successful prosecution of all such cases," Attorney Bryant wrote Chief Word.

"I wish to say in conclusion," the letter states, "that I have written up in my own personal initiative."

Low Coast To Coast Air Trip Was Won

ARMEN LOST ON MAPPED TRAIL

Overladen, They Repair Voltage Cutoff

SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 4.—Four over numerous cities and vast areas, lost in air lanes high over a trackless wilderness, replaced a voltage regulator to save the plane from failure at the start, strained their goggles eyes for the beams of the air lighthouses—these were the experiences of Lieutenant Kelly and John A. Maclaudy in their monoplane coast to coast flight in which they spanned the continent in a day.

Their faces splashed with oil, their stiff with sitting in constrained positions for 26 hours and 50 minutes during the trip from New York to San Diego, the explorers of the air, today they kept awake after flying here. Today they were still in the air, and the rooms in the U. S. hotel were in a state of confusion.

2 Meals Across Continent

During the trip Maclaudy and Kelly ate ready cooked food and took coffee from thermos bottles, had to take only two meals in air—dinner Wednesday, and breakfast Thursday morning, they ate San Diego in time for lunch, flying away from the Atlantic coast shortly before noon on one day, swept down at their landing at 12:25 p. m. the next day, flying traversed in that time the long and weary distance across which, recently as the late sixties, the emigrants toiled for months in ox-drawn wagons.

Engines Labeled at Start

"We could not ascertain the reason why we were unable to get the full power out of our engines at the start," Kelly said. "In New Jersey the voltage regulator cut out on us. We repaired it in flight."

In this simple language he told how the trip seemed doomed at the start, how it was just a gamble whether they would make San Diego or be forced to land ignominiously somewhere in New Jersey.

"If we had not been able to repair the engine, we would have had to return," continued Kelly. Working in six shifts, they continued across Pennsylvania, Illinois and Missouri, at Belleville, Ill., a searchlight beam—an air lighthouse—guided them, and they were glad to see it. They saw the city of St. Louis roll out below.

"There were clouds all through those states," Kelly said. "At the Missouri-Kansas line we had found moonlight, but the moon was partly hidden. Then in Missouri we encountered a light rain."

Beyond Jefferson City, Mo., Kelly and Maclaudy groped their way through darkness, boring steadily southward through the uncharted air lanes. Peering down, they saw nothing but a black void. Here and there a faint speck of light, like a dim yellow star, gleamed for a minute but soon these ceased—the farmers had all gone to bed.

Here's Frank Buckley, Hampden, Mass., who's been appointed special assistant to the attorney general of the United States.

"There were no lights to guide us," said Kelly, "except occasionally the light of a train."

For a long time, he said, they did not know where they were. Then with the coming of dawn they looked eastward eagerly for some landmark. Beneath was a town, near it a large circle and a graveyard—Tucumanari, N. M.

"We knew it was Tucumanari because of that circle near the graveyard," said Kelly. "We certainly were glad to see that town, because there we knew that we were still on our course."

Forcing steadily westward from Tucumanari, they began crossing a dead and forbidding territory, the desert, where a forced descent probably would have meant death by thirst and starvation, miles from a habitation. There were no roads, and not a human being as far as they could see in every direction—just vast dry lakes, dry rivers, dry marshes.

"I was much impressed by the acres and acres of waste land," said Kelly.

In eastern Arizona they reached their highest point, 10,500 feet, according to Kelly. They had to climb to clear the high plateau. At the same time they encountered a headwind.

"These plateaus," according to Maclaudy, who was driving when they were reached, "were much higher than I had an idea they would be. We couldn't get over them. For a hundred miles we had to follow a ridge between them in order to cross."

Having cleared these highlands, the rest was plain sailing. They sped across the Imperial Valley of California, with its ranches, below sea level in places, passed over the last range of hills, and came in sight of San Diego. Big crowds awaited their coming and when the plane suddenly came into sight a roar of cheers and whistles cut loose in greeting. They soared over the town and dropped to a perfect landing on Rockwell Field—in time for lunch.

BOY, MISTAKEN CLUBBERS HERE FOR THIEF, SLAIN IN GOLF TOURNEY

Inquest Ordered to Get Doctor's Story

WATERTOWN, Wis., May 4.—Authorities at an inquest sought full explanation of the fatal shooting of Darrell Donovan, 17, Watertown youth, said to have been mistaken for a burglar when he was shot and killed by Dr. F. C. Hanes, city health commissioner.

A bullet fired from a window of Dr. Hanes' home struck Donovan in the forehead, killing him instantly.

According to Dr. Hanes, he was awakened by his wife about 2:30 a. m. when she heard a noise outside the bedroom window. Dr. Hanes said he fired a revolver out the window in the belief that a burglar was seeking to break into the house. Hearing no further sounds, he said he decided his wife's fears were unfounded and went to bed without calling the police.

Police do not believe Donovan intended to enter the Hanes home, but are at a loss to explain why he left the street on his way home to walk over.

At the close of the business session Mrs. Brabo served a delicious ice course.

Port Arthur Country club will be represented Sunday in Lake Charles at the Inter-City Golf tournament by a strong squad of local golfers, it was announced this morning.

The list will be chosen from the following players:

W. D. Polindexter, H. M. Smith, I. Moffatt, H. P. Parmalee, E. D. Dorchester, C. L. Wignall, H. W. McCord, and G. T. Craig.

The Port Arthur Country Clubmen have been training hard since the matches were played here on the local course, and have already inspected the Lake Charles course, familiarizing themselves with the grounds there. They expect "to bring home on the Hanes premises. A story current in the city was that he was seen with several youths who are believed to have indulged in a drinking party. Dr. Hanes is a former army officer.

The golf matches include the third round of play in the Inter-City Golf League, the fourth being scheduled for Orange the first Sunday in June.

Citizens Open Bag Of Errors and Lose To Texacos 4 to 2

Peaster Holds Clouting Craigmens to Four Hits With Hard Spitter, While Texas Lads Find Cook in Hole.

By BILL ARCHER

THE Texacos bunched the errors together on the Citizens in the third frame yesterday on Lakeshore and staged a running feat, which, when the dust of the clash had faded away, left them victorious over Skipper Craig's boys with a 4-to-2 win. Incidentally, it booted the Citizens from their tie for first place, and left that branch of honors in the City League undisputed in the hands of the Gulfers.

Peaster and Cook staged a little battle all their own, and while the former was permitting only four hits to get away from him which he managed to scatter well over the field, the latter was dropping the former's colleague with but two. Unfortunately for Cook, however, his teammates failed to support him yesterday as they should have, and badly judged balls and several poorly juggled ones cost them a game—their first defeat of the season.

Earhart, more familiarly known to the boys as "Chubby," exhibited some sensational fielding during the melee that drew cinders from those who looked on. "Chubby," robbed at least three men of long hits, and twice during the game ran under long hits that seemed impossible to collect. Earhart executed the left fielder's job with such skill and grace that his work made the task appear just a pastime.

Peaster's spit ball was entirely too much for the Citizens yesterday. They found his curve, when it came low, once or twice during the game, but usually his spitter went for a strike out or a high fly that found the sack waiting its arrival.

Guy Hooker was somewhat off the "T," and muffed a couple of costly ones. As A. Wright joined him in the third stanza and permitted a run on an overthrow to the right fielder, the Texas boys jumped an early lead and got off to a score in their section of the initial frame. Rodriguez, the first man up, looked the offerings of Cook over and noticed on one that went for a hit. Huletto played for the ball and got his hands on it, but altogether too late to ever have made a play for the batter. Priester went to first and continued for second on an error. H. Wright dropping a high right one in right field which he recovered, stopping the Texaco short at second. Rodriguez found one that he liked and it went for a sacrifice. Priester being thrown out at third, but Rodriguez scoring on the play.

That ended the scoring until the second inning, when the Citizens tied up the count with a score from A. Wright who crossed the bag on his brother's single.

Then the Citizens came to bat for their third stanza and made the Citizens appear anywhere but the right place. Rodriguez doubled. Priester flew out to Jordan. Romero went to first and gained second when H. Wright muffed a high one in deep right, scoring Rodriguez. Lauve connected an easy one with his bat and made the opening station while A. Wright was permitting Romero to score from third on a ball too high for Hooker to cop. King let three good ones pass and the umpire called his qualifications as a batter. Earhart walked and Lauve scored on the last ball, it having gone on record as a wild pitch. That was all; Stewart struck out. A Wright dropped the ball, recovered it and shot it to Davis before Stewart could get there.

Their section of the third frame was uneventful for the Citizens. Draughan was the only man to get to first and he took that on four bad ones. The Citizens staged a rally in the last of the fourth, when Huletto scored on Perkins' single, but it came too late to do any good. The first three up in the fifth for the Citizens went out and the game ended, 4 to 2.

A freak play in the first of the fifth stopped the excitement of the game for a few minutes while the umpires were deciding which base runner was out and why.

The bases were full and Earhart came to bat and connected. Hooker snatched a hot one off the ground and shot it to Jordan at home, forcing Priester at the plate. Jordan in turn shot the ball to first for a double, and the play was apparently so close that the men in the field thought the inning over. Consequently they started to retire; then the umpire ruled Earhart safe.

It then became a game of "find the base runner and play tag." And Jordan started out to locate him. He touched several plays with the ball and finally touched Lauve, whom it was claimed, failed to place his feet firmly on third while trotting for home, and the umpire ruled him out.

Two errors by Galloway and Hale, followed by a single by Burns, scored two runs in the third inning, and the Athletics lost to the Red Sox.

Ring and Mat Leaders

Presenting the three big men of the mat and ring, Stan Zbyzko, Jess Willard and Ed Strangler Lewis. Just at present the three huskies are doing a bit of training at Excelsior Springs, Mo.

Willard is getting in shape for his bout at New York on May 12, with Floyd Johnson. It is the big test for the former heavyweight champion. A decisive defeat of Johnson would make him the logical opponent for another meeting with Jack Dempsey.

Lewis at present holds the heavyweight wrestling title. He won it not so very long ago from Zbyzko. Wrestling titles are fickle things and naturally Zbyzko is hopeful of winning it back before the close of 1932.

TEXACOS PLAY PADDOCK EVENS ISLAND MONDAY

Executive Body to Settle the Dispute at Once

Through orders of the City Baseball League executive body, the first postponed game of the season will be played Monday of next week at Lakeshore diamond when the fast Texacos and Islanders tangle up again. It is the intention of the league authorities to play off the postponed games as early as possible and clean up the slate, it being called that already some four or five games are marked behind.

The league is taking on the proportions of a real thing. The diamond is in tip-top shape, through the efforts of Skipper Bill Craig of the Citizens and Pitcher Leach, and it is understood that even additional work will be conducted on the grounds in the next day or two to make them speedier.

The protest has been filed with the league secretary since the season started. The Island club protesting the decision of the "blocked ball" rule in the game this week between the Island and the Gulf, and charging that Empire Roy Huston was in error in his decision. The matter has been referred to the president of the league, George Weddell, who intimated yesterday that the executive committee would be called in session to decide the issue immediately. Several additional rules in connection with the official guide will probably be touched upon by the committee in their conference.

This, with the official staff of the organization working like a piece of well-oiled machinery, and with the teams exhibiting some of the best baseball ever witnessed here—some of which will even compare favorably with those of the Texas League or Southern Association, the City League bids well to go over the top this year as never before.

The game Monday between the Texacos and the Islanders will be the first postponed affair, and others are to follow at opportune times, this arrangement keeping the league affairs in excellent condition.

TIGERS WIN ONE

DETROIT, May 4.—Detroit staged her way into first place and a victory over Cleveland today.

Score by innings:
Cleveland 000 012 011—5 12 0
Detroit 120 020 008—6 15 1

YESTERDAY'S HOME RUNS

Cy Williams, Phils, 1 6
Powell, Braves, 1 1
Jacobson, Browns, 1 1

No. The National Association ruled that the amateur rules for other sports could not be applied to billiards and a concession was made that the players could play for "friendly wagers" and the time charge on the table.

"Has Benny Leonard ever been on the floor since he became champion?"—FITCHER, P.A.N.
Yes, Ritchie Mitchell knocked him down for the count of nine in the first round of a bout in Madison Square Garden in 1921, but he knocked Mitchell out in the sixth round.

Two errors by Galloway and Hale, followed by a single by Burns, scored two runs in the third inning, and the Athletics lost to the Red Sox.

Baseball Quiz

QUESTIONS
ONE—If the two captains are unable to agree on certain ground rules what happens?
TWO—Can a baseman step out of the box after the pitcher has gotten into his position on the rubber ready to pitch?
THREE—With a runner on first, the batsman singles to right and the runner on first tries for third. With two umpires working, who gives the decision at third?
FOUR—Is it necessary for a pitcher to throw the ball to third or second, when he makes a point to catch a runner at either of the two bases mentioned?
FIVE—Does the calling of a balk have any effect on the status of the batter? That is, can he go to first base in any situation which involves the calling of a balk?
ANSWERS
ONE—The umpire makes the ground rules, if the two captains are unable to reach a decision.
TWO—He is not supposed to, but conditions often arise that make it necessary. He should appeal to the umpire, who will always call time if the pitcher has not started his delivery.
THREE—The umpire working at the plate should give the decision at third.
FOUR—It is only necessary that a pitcher complete the throw to first, when he starts such an act. It is not necessary that he do so when making a point to catch a runner in no way affects the status of the batsman. He can never go to first base on a called balk.
FIVE—No.

EBERHARD WINS OVER BUFFALOES IN A 9-0 CLASH

Exporters Jump Early Lead in Second Event

BEAUMONT, Texas, May 4.—To the credit of Karl Eberhard goes the honor of hurling the first shutout of the season. Eberhard, 1922 season, Karl turned that trick in yesterday afternoon when he held the visiting Buffaloes blank for nine innings and the Exporters blanked the visitors, 9 to 0, in one of the best games witnessed here.

The Exporters jumped the early lead when four of Manager Eberhard's favorite base runners paced across the fourth plate, and after that, although the visiting Buffaloes exhibited considerable flashes, the game was sealed in a pocket. Mike Kierker took the mound for the Buffaloes, and the Exporters connected for 14 hits.

The score:
Buffalo 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Score by innings:
Beaumont 000 000 000—9
Buffalo 000 000 000—0

Summary: Two base hits, Turgeon, Strong, Ostigard, Hammer, three-base hit, Turgeon, sacrifice hit, Eberhard 2; struck out Kierker, 6; Eberhard 2; hit by Eberhard, 1; Ostigard, by Kierker; double, "Burr," Stangbury to Vick to Schmidt. Time 2 hours; umpires, Weir and O'Leary.

Kinks-o' the Links

by "PRO"

Five lengths of drainage pipe are left on the fairway by one of the workmen engaged in making some repairs. A player's second shot so lodges in one of the drainage pipes that there is absolutely no chance to play it. What are the rights of the player in this situation?

The drainage pipes, which through the carelessness of the workman have been permitted to remain on the fairway, are considered unplayable. There is no reason why the player should suffer a penalty because of such a condition. The player has the right to lift such ball and drop it without penalty.

A large size worm is on the putting green on a direct line between the player's ball and the cup. The player feels that unless he removes the worm it will seriously interfere with the direction of his putt. Is a worm on the putting green regarded as a loose impediment? Is there a penalty if the worm is removed by brushing it aside with the club-head?

A worm on the putting green is regarded as a loose impediment. The player has a perfect right to remove it, but must do so by picking it up. The player makes himself open to a penalty for brushing aside the worm with his club-head.

PIRATES TAKE OPENER

PITTSBURGH, May 4.—Pittsburgh won the opening game of the series with Cincinnati, 3 to 1.

Score by innings:
Cincinnati 000 000 010—1 7 1
Pittsburgh 010 010 018—3 10 1
Donohue, Benton and Hargrave; Adams and Goech.

Detroit knocked Philadelphia out of the box and abused Metevier and jumped into first place by beating the Indians.

A.A.U. INVOKES WARD POLITICS ON TRACK STAR

But Paddock Does Not Seem To Mind

NEW YORK, May 4.—Getting back to its habit of using little-ward politics, the American Athletic Union, has set down Charley Paddock for competing in the trial events in the University of Paris games.

A. A. U. suspensions are put through with an informal wave of the hand and legal grounds are not considered necessary. In this case it is understood that Paddock was punished for competing in an unsanctioned meet. Under these conditions the suspension means nothing, as he will have to be reinstated if he ever decides to apply for a lifting of the suspension.

It is doubtful if the sprint champion will care to flutter the A. A. U. by recognizing that he is suspended. He is ready to retire, and under the conditions that prevailed in his case, it would be no blatant in his record to retire under an A. A. U. suspension.

Paddock has assumed the role of a test case that has been brewing for some time to get a showdown on the right of the A. A. U. to govern amateur athletics in the United States.

SOUTH PARK TO PLAY HI SCHOOL

Game on Lakeshore Thursday Afternoon at 4

South Park invades the sanctum of Coach Leo Smith's protegee, Lakeshore diamond this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The high school boys have been working hard on their nine, and a tie in tip-top shape for the invader was announced yesterday.

The game will be the third in a series for the local high school leaguers, and will be one of the sturdiest of the season, this section to Port Arthur.

Coach Smith will probably use same lineup in the game that he 1 scored against the Beaumont 1 during the district tournament, but however, the team is somewhat stronger than it was at that time. The game has been scheduled to start promptly at 4 p.m.

DODGERS GRAB ONE

BAD BREATH

Sallow Skin, Sick Headaches are very disagreeable, both to you and to those with whom you come in contact. In the majority of cases, bad breath is caused by a disordered stomach, which leads to a condition which sometimes becomes very dangerous.

There are two methods to relieve this condition. Either the sufferer can go without food for a considerable time, or can eat what they like, but prevent the formation of gas, or change the character of the food by the use of EAT-AS-U-LIK.

EAT-AS-U-LIK has proven to be a safe and reliable remedy. Produced from the formula of a stomach specialist, it affords instant relief for indigestion, sour stomach, heartburn, gas on the stomach, and any kindred ills. EAT-AS-U-LIK is sold under positive guarantee. Money returned if it fails.

SAT ON WIFE AS SHE DROWNED

Officers Say Husband Drove Over Bank

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., May 4.—Police are checking up a remarkable confession which they say, was made to them by John A. Carlson, to the effect that he killed his wife by holding her head under water until she drowned. The body of the woman, Mrs. Freda Carlson, was found March 24 beside an overturned automobile, to which Carlson summoned her, saying it had gone over an embankment in an accident with him and his wife aboard.

Detective Sergeant McCue of New Britain county and County Detective Edward Hickey said that Carlson made the confession. He told them, they said, that he and his wife were dining on the night of the murder and began to quarrel almost as soon as they started on the trip. They had several quarrels during the days preceding and Carlson said he had several times just about made up his mind to kill her.

When she finally told him she wanted a fur coat, he said, he decided she might as well kill her then and there, and kill him if also. So he decided to drive the automobile over an embankment and end both their lives. The car turned over when it hit the ground below the embankment and Carlson noticed a wife had been stunned. He said, a police say, he had hoped she was dead, but when he felt her pulse and she was alive.

He managed to move her head out until it rested in a small pool of water and turned her face down and she could drown, the alleged water rums. But she didn't drown. She began to show signs of regaining consciousness and finally raised her head so that her nose was clear of the water. This made Carlson angry, so he shoved her head under the water and, sitting on her, she could not move, waited until she was dead.

"PORTABLE COURT" USED IN MISSOURI

THE MISSOURI "MOVABLE MOONSHINE COURT" IN ACTION.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 4.—When the mountain wouldn't come to Mohammed, Mohammed went to the mountain.

And, in this Twentieth century, if bootleggers and moonshiners would come to court, make the court go to them, say officials of Clay county, Mo.

Liberty, county seat of Clay county, is the center of a populous district adjoining Kansas City. The spread of bootlegging and secret making of liquor has caused trouble in the last several months.

So a "gipsy" court has been organized and the county now has a portable judiciary.

The "gipsy" court uses a half dozen speedy motor cars and swoops down upon suspects, conducts a search, holds a trial and speeds away to jail with convicted offenders.

SABINE BEATS HYDROGRAPHERS

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS.

SABINE, May 4.—The Sabine ball team cleaned up on the U. S. Hydrographers here yesterday in a fast and exciting game. Lemire for the Sabine team did some fine work in the box and the score 2 to 0 for the Sabine team tells the story. The score:

R. H. E.
Sabine 2 0 1
U. S. Hydro 0 0 0
Batteries: For Sabine, Lemire and Pierce; for Hydros, Skelton and Jessup.

The Sabine team is open for a Sunday game on their home grounds.

LOGAN'S FINAL WORD ON

Upon Friends Not to Be Overconfident—Every Ballot Will Tell

On the eve of the elimination election Saturday, I take the liberty of this "farewell" statement to the voters of Port Arthur regarding my candidacy.

While the selection of the men who are to serve the people of this city for the next two years is obviously the personal business of each individual citizen, who may perhaps sometime feel that those soliciting his support are a bit officious and persistent at the same time, each voter should remember that when a fellow citizen offers his name for the consideration, he also has a deep personal interest at stake.

In my case, the personal interest is increased by the fact that I have already served you for two years. Naturally, re-election will serve either as an endorsement or a repudiation of my work during those two years. Every man likes to feel that he has made a success of any work he undertakes, and he is doubly anxious that his friends and fellow citizens generally shall approve that work.

It is, therefore, more for the sake of my own self-respect than for a repetition of the honors already given me that I have asked the voters of Port Arthur to serve me again. I have voted my choice for each election upon the merits in my own service and refrained from attacking in anyway those who have opposed me. I believe that if I have shown during the past two years that I am capable of wisely, efficiently and economically conducting the public affairs of the city, the voters, through their own spirit of fair play and intelligence, will be governed by their estimates of my merits rather than the demerits of my opponents.

I believe, too, that the voters have decided to return me to office, having listened throughout the campaign for some one of my opponents to give voice to one sound reason why I should be retired to private life. I am convinced they will go to the polls Saturday and give me the vote of confidence and approval I feel that I deserve at their hands.

The only danger lies at this moment in over-confidence. In conclusion, therefore, I shall take the liberty of urging every voter who feels that I am entitled to the customary second term and that Port Arthur should not "swap horses in the middle of the stream" make a special effort to visit the polls and cast his vote.

J. P. LOGAN.

Squaw Chops Off Her Mate's Head As She Finds He Seeks Divorce

CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., May 4.—When Minnie Hawk, an Indian squaw on the Crow Creek reservation, learned that her husband, also an Indian, had brought action for divorce, she became so infuriated that she got an axe, went to his tent while he was asleep, and chopped his head off, according to a confession she is alleged to have made to the reservation authorities. She was arrested and will have a hearing before the United States commissioner here Tuesday.

White Wants His Dog, Lost, to Return Home

EMPORIA, Kans., May 1.—William Allen White has lost his dog. In an editorial in his Gazette he says:

"Lost a dog, a little white fox terrier with liver colored ears and dark intelligent eyes, an oddish dog as dogs go, being past 12 and slow moving, a bit deaf and may be not clever sighted as he once was when two little children used to tumble him over the grass at his home 10 years ago.

He has always been a good moral dog, and if he had his life of affairs and romantic adventures he was always in by 9 p. m. But now he has been gone two days. Possibly he has been crippled by an accident. It is also possible that he is sick and it is barely possible that he may have gone to a home where there are children, though. But at any rate anyone who knows of such a dog will please call me and tell the news, he in good or bad, to an anxious family to whom Friday is a living link to a happy and beautiful past."

Fire Alarm in Chinese Fails; 7 Trapped, 1 Dies

NEW YORK, May 4.—The inability of persons on the street to understand James Lee, a Chinese laundryman, when he tried to tell them of a fire in his laundry in Brooklyn Saturday gave the flames such a head way that seven persons were trapped in the three-story building before the firemen arrived.

Lee tried to tell pedestrians of the fire but none could understand Chinese. Harvey Orr, 15, died from injuries received when he jumped from a top floor window. His daughter Pauline, 21, was injured when a clothes line she sought to use as a means of escape broke. Orr recovered consciousness long enough to tell firemen his wife was in the flat. She was found in bed "half" rescued.

Another tenant received a fractured wrist when he fell from a cornice after getting his family to safety.

Visitor Dwelling in Church Had a Good Reason; It's the Rent

LONG BEACH, Calif., May 1.—James M. King, who said he was a draftsman of Salt Lake City, explained to policemen who found him living in a church here, that his reason was caused by "high rents."

The police saw a light in a Methodist church at a time of night when no light should have been there. They found King feasting on ham and eggs over a small gas stove.

At the police station, where King was taken for investigation, the police said they found a considerable sum of money on him and a bank book showing deposits of $1,500 in a Utah bank.

"Well," King was quoted, "it's this way: rents are so high I decided to live in the church for a while. I've slept there several nights and cooked my meals in the church kitchen."

Mob Escaped Convict, Red Hair Dyed Black

MADISON, Wis., May 4.—Emmett Mills' farm had, whose dyed black hair showed red at the roots was arrested here and identified as Thomas Pruett, 22, convict No. 7244 at Joliet prison, who made a spectacular getaway with a pal March 19.

Pruett admitted his identity, declaring "you wouldn't have got me if I'd had a gun," and was placed in Dane county jail until extradition papers can be served.

Pruett was apprehended by railroad detectives investigating a series of box car robberies between here and Reedsburg. He was working on a farm near Marshall, 15 miles east of here. He was serving a 15-year sentence in Joliet prison for complicity in a murder case.

SYNOPSIS TO AND MEMORY

Neurologist Attempts it, She Tells Name

NEW YORK, May 4.—(Out of the way of tricks of every modern neurologist, a woman who has been in St. Vincent's hospital, St. Louis Island, unable to recall her name since she was saved from drowning herself Monday from a Staten Island ferry boat.

Dr. Morris H. Frantz, neurologist of the hospital, a little hunchbacked man with a Swenali face that is belied by the gentleness of his blue eyes and the softness of his manner, placed the woman under hypnosis when every other modern means had failed.

As the woman fixed her eyes at his direction he soothed her into a deep hypnotic sleep. He repeated to her quietly as she was drifting away into unconsciousness that she would write her real name and address when she awoke.

After she had slept five minutes under the spell of his words, at his direction she began to fight back to consciousness. While she was in a semi-hypnotic state he handed her a pencil and paper and she wrote down finally, Rene J. Wilson, 1117 Eighth street, Washington, N. W.

Exhausted, she immediately fell back into a heavy natural sleep.

While she slept the hospital authorities communicated with the bureau of missing persons at police headquarters and the bureau in turn notified the Washington police.

In a few hours the Washington police reported that a woman of that name had been known at that address, but the house is closed. The belief in Washington was that the family had gone to Florida.

GUTENBERG BIBLE

BROUGHT TO U. S.

NEW YORK, May 4.—Announcing that he had made purchases of rare books totaling $1250,000, Dr. A. S. W. Rosenbach, a book buyer, arrived here on the Olympic from Europe.

One of his acquisitions was the Gutenberg Bible, the first Bible printed, which was bought by him while at sea. The Bible was obtained from James W. Ellsworth, New York, who is said to have paid $11,000 for it.

Dr. Rosenbach brought back several collections from England, France and Italy, among them being 154 books written by Gen. Montcalm in 1759, telling of the events that led to the cession of Canada to the British. One of the letters was written the day before General Montcalm was killed.

Temple of Slav Moon God Unearthed on Baltic Island

BERLIN, May 4.—King Tut-Ankh-Amen, a household deity in America and England, is virtually unknown in Germany. Expensive news services from the Valley of Kings beyond the means of German newspapers. Instead, Swantewit, the moon god of the ancient Slav races, is the shibboleth of archeological up-to-dateness in German salons, owing to recent excavations of a prehistoric or almost prehistoric Slav fortress on the island of Rugen, in the Baltic sea built around the temple of the god.

Almost prehistoric—for in the ancient Danish writings is an account by a Danish chronicler, Saxo Grammaticus, describing the storming of the fortress town, known as Arkona, by the Danish sea raiders in the twelfth century. This account has enabled the archeologists who identified and excavated Arkona to check up on their findings. Swantewit lived but a year or two in the past compared with the venerable antiquity of Tut-Ankh-Amen, Arkona having been stormed and pillaged but a mere eight centuries ago. But the discoveries have great historical and scientific interest for Germany.

Schuchart R. Gives Account
Prof. Karl Schuchart, who headed the expedition, has given an interesting account of his work before the German Academy of Sciences. In supposed casual sand dunes on the northern corner of Rugen he was able to identify and trace the remains of the high wall with which the adepts of Swantewit had surrounded his shrine, still 20 to 25 feet high for the greater part of the rim and reaching the height of 45 feet at the northern corner. The walls included a triangular 635 feet long and 425 feet broad, the whole standing at an elevation of 130 feet above the sea.

A large portion of the temple itself was uncovered, including the central or inner shrine in which the stone image of the god Swantewit stood. Level with the earth excavators found the upper surface of the foundation upon which the image of the god stood some 800 years ago before the irreverent Danish raiders pulled it down. The footprints of the god are still visible in the mortar of

Attention Port Arthur Voters

In offering myself for mayor, I do so with the conviction that Port Arthur needs a clean city government, and that the majority of the citizens want a clean city and an efficient city government. I am fully persuaded that it is possible to have law and order in Port Arthur, and that I have the ability and determination to make the enforcement of law an accomplished fact, if I shall be entrusted with the task.

I present myself as a candidate, backed by 36 years of clean and upright living, and with an earnest desire for a better environment in which to raise my four children, as well as for the children of my neighbors and fellow citizens. I have had a thorough business education and understand general construction work. At the present time I am a member of the Carpenters' Union. I feel that I shall be able to bring to the office the knowledge of a practical builder.

I feel that right now the thing that is greatly needed in Port Arthur is a city administration that will get results from the public service corporations. The interests of the people need to be guarded very carefully at the present time. If elected mayor I shall do all that is in my power to see to it that the people, the great laboring mass, get a square deal from the public service corporations. I shall also seek to secure action on the matter of fresh water for Port Arthur, one of our greatest needs.

I shall not make a long list of promises in order to get votes, but I do desire to call your attention, in conclusion, to the fact that I have always stood for law and order, for better civic conditions in Port Arthur. I have done this in spite of vicious assaults upon my person, and bitter persecutions against me in my business. I ask all the men and women who want a cleaner, better, larger and more prosperous Port Arthur to vote for me. If I am elected I shall do all that is in my power to give you a city government that shall enforce our laws, as far as it shall be in my power to do so, and also to give you an efficient business administration. It will be my one purpose to serve the city at all times.

—REAL ESTATE—
The business world decides in favor of the man of decision. You have been thinking of owning your own home, or thinking of investing in Real Estate. Nearly every man who became wealthy did so by putting his money in Real Estate. Look around you and inquire. Ask the man who was here 20 years ago, look at the millions of improvements being made by the big landowners and think of 10 cents from now. You can't lose. You are bound to make a big profit. Why keep putting it off—property is going fast and going up every day. Come in now or phone 406, select a lot or two now while the terms are easy and the prices low. Get out of that rut you are in. Help yourself, no one else is going to.

The lots in "THE GROVES" are going fast. Better hurry if you want one on or near one of the shelled roads.
The price is still $425 for inside and $525 for corners, $25 down and $10 per month.
The highest, best soil, best drained land in the country, finest kind of water.
The lots are more than twice the size of our City lots.
"THE GROVES" is on the Country Club shelled road.
"THE GROVES" is on the Port Arthur-Port Neches shelled road.
"THE GROVES" is 1 1-2 miles from the Atlantic Refinery Site.
"THE GROVES" is on the Port Arthur-Port Neches Bus Route.
